Executive Assistant General Manager

Four or Five-star Hotels

Cairo, Egypt

Dear Assistant General Manager,

This is the first time for me to send a letter about our study to your hotel. I am the Doctor and Chairperson of Sports in Japan. It is my pleasure to introduce our academic homepage “chairperson.jp” which is visited from all over the world excluding China (?). For your information, I have informed about the “Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise” which is an unconventional style (not a full paper style) to the professors of the University of Tokyo in 2012, Harvard University in 2013, Oxford University in 2014 and Paris University in 2015 for the “Doping-Backdoor Theory,” the general managers or assistant general managers of hundreds of four or five-star hotels around the world for the “Chairperson Cocktail” and the regular members of the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra for “My Way” in (2010 and) 2016. “There is one and only theory (using an examination broker and more than six million yen medical education fees) and cocktail (Cocktail ‘Olympic’ + Angostura Bitters) for universities and hotels in the 21st century.”

In contemporary Japan, there are approximately 85 national universities, 100 public universities, and 600 private universities. As a result of the declining birthrate and the subsequent decrease in the number of university applicants, more than half of these universities currently face enrollment shortfalls. At renowned universities such as Private Meiji University, Private Aoyama Gakuin University, National Chiba University, National Fukushima University, and National Mie University, around 50% of undergraduate students are considered “mediocre students” who lack clear evidence of an academic deviation score above 50.

In private universities, there are institutions known for their exorbitantly high tuition fees, particularly for medical education. For example, medical education at Teikyo University, Tokyo Medical University, Tokyo Women’s Medical University, and Aichi Medical University costs over 60 million yen through the use of an examination broker. At Fujita Health University, medical education costs for many mediocre students exceed 70 million yen and are considered extremely high. This includes an infamous case of a (former) mediocre graduate student who was caught cheating on the National Medical Licensing Examination. His medical education costs are estimated to have exceeded 100 million yen or one million USD, which is most likely the worst recorded cost for medical education in Japan. It should be noted that caution is necessary with Japan’s major newspaper Asahi Shimbun, which has been acting as a “taikomochi (jester)” for Fujita Health University from the past. The term “taikomochi,” a uniquely Japanese metaphorical expression, originally referred to someone who played drums to liven up the atmosphere at banquets, but it has come to mean a person who flatters others or acts obsequiously to gain their favor. Meanwhile, the University of Tokyo, disproportionately emphasized by Japan’s mass media, faces serious issues of academic harassment, often described as “head-dropping treatment,” referring to a response where one’s head forcefully slumps downward, like a chicken. Moreover, Private Waseda University and Private Keio University, two private institutions to which the mass media is also devoted, lack proper business manners. “Big Money, here” 「バカ高い、ここ」

Assistant General Manager, I would be grateful if your hotel could take some interest in my research. No response will be needed. Academic harassment by national universities, such as the University of Tokyo and Kyoto University, was reported to the Board of Directors of the Japan Society for Medical Education on May 30, 2015. However, there has been absolutely no improvement in my (Dr. Shida’s) circumstances as a doctor both before and after that time. I am content that your hotel becomes familiar with our cocktail “Chairperson.”

Sincerely,

Yukihisa SHIDA (M.D., Ph.D., Mie University, Japan)

Doctor and Chairperson of Sports — the fastest pace in history

Member of the Roppongi Hills Club, Japan

In 1984, I (Dr. Shida) passed the academic entrance examination (not a recommendation-based or escalator admission) for the Junior High School Science Program at the Faculty of Education, National Fukushima University but declined to enroll. In 1992, I graduated from the Graduate School of Medicine, National Mie University.

This year, I will take a business trip to Cairo and London and stay at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on January 24, Four Season Hotel in Cairo on January 25 and 26, and The Goring Hotel in London on January 27, 2025. I kindly and indirectly requested that all members of the Tokyo American Club, including Harvard University graduates, adhere to the Japanese General Rules, such as refraining from calling someone a “goshin (misdiagnosing) doctor,” which constitutes anonymous slander, or referring to an individual as a “sha (non-doctor)” or “obocchama (greenhorn).” However, with regard to the cocktail “Chairperson” and the academic homepage “chairperson.jp,” I would like to clarify the following. I expect that my introduction of the cocktail and the homepage in accordance with the “Japanese General Rules” will meet the approval requirements in accordance with “Egypt’s General Rules,” which are different from “America’s General Rules.” At the Tokyo American Club, such behavior and character may be tolerated; however, they are unlikely to be accepted in Egypt, the United Kingdom, or at universities such as Cairo University, Oxford University, and the University of Cambridge. “At the Tokyo American Club, anonymous slander is notably noticeable.”

On the other hand, among students, alumni, and faculty members of the National University of Tokyo, unrefined and disrespectful professional manners are occasionally replaced by vulgar forms of academic harassment in Japan. On October 27, 2024, on a Japanese TV variety show, a female main anchor holding a Bachelor of Nursing from the National University of Tokyo, who is a Visiting Professor at Private Ryutsu Keizai University (Chiba and Ibaraki Prefecture), also shows a crude and disrespectful manner toward two older sports commentators, both of whom are prominent figures in the professional baseball world, by saying “fun fun fun (hmm hmm hmm).”

On November 16, 2024, I met a Japanese male investor living in Portugal, who is eligible for an AMEX Centurion Card (annual income: more than 100 million Japanese yen (150 yen per USD, approximately 667,000 USD)), at a small, casual bar in Ginza, which is sometimes featured in TV news programs by Nikkei (Japan’s leading financial newspaper). A former bank employee, he told me, “I apologize, but I would like to speak from a position of superiority.” However, I must say there is no doubt that I also maintain a superior position when it comes to business manners, deviation score, and academic degree. (I have evidence of a deviation score above 50, a medical doctor’s license, and a doctorate.) Unlike graduates or faculty members of the National University of Tokyo who drop their heads abruptly in front of others or respond with “fun, fun, fun (hmm, hmm, hmm)” repeatedly, my mannerisms are not so vulgar in nature.

At Waseda University, a private institution that prides itself on its history and tradition of “bankara” (unrefined behavior), its students, alumni, and faculty members are observed engaging in behaviors such as wiping their faces with bare hands in front of others and picking their noses and ears with their fingers. And compared to the atmosphere at national Mie University, private Waseda University has a dominant atmosphere of mediocrity, where individuals lacking evidence of a deviation score above 50 are prevalent.

I apologize for saying this, but many Japanese people appear to place themselves in a position of inferiority in terms of business etiquette, academic ability, and/or degree. Even among graduates, faculty members, and teachers of the National University of Tokyo and Private Waseda University, there are occasionally those who are not exemplary in their conduct, and, in terms of business etiquette, they are regarded as being a step below by those around them.

TV wide show host Takako ZENBA

“Cleaning their ears and nose by their finger”
TV News Anchor Osamu SORIMACHI

TV News anchor Koji MATSUBARA and “News Broadcast 19:30”

“All three have distinctive personalities, lack abilities, and sometimes set aside their own issues to ask, ‘Are you okay (daijoubu-desuka)?’ ”

Among Japanese news anchors, behavior similar to that observed among bankers of the Hyakugo Bank in Mie Prefecture and a lawyer of TLEO Toranomon Law and Economic Office in Tokyo has been pointed out. These include arrogant attitudes, such as replying to elderly gentlemen with “fun, fun, fun,” and unhygienic gestures, such as wiping one’s face with the palm of the hand or cleaning one’s ears or nose with fingers in public. For example, Caster Takako ZENBA has been noted for responding to an elderly gentleman with “fun, fun, fun” in an arrogant manner. Additionally, at the National University of Tokyo, many students, alumni, and faculty members have been observed abruptly bowing their heads like chickens in front of others. Furthermore, unhygienic behavior by Caster Osamu SORIMACHI and Caster Koji MATSUBARA, such as picking their ears or noses in public with their fingers, has also been reported. These actions are regarded as unrefined and disrespectful professional behavior, reflecting a lack of dignity and self-respect. [Reference: “Paper on November 5, 2018 (Hyakugo Bank, Japan)” on the academic homepage “chairperson.jp”]

In Japan, issues such as poor manners among both Japanese and foreign tourists are frequently reported on television. Additionally, bad driving manners by Japanese people have also drawn attention. Unfortunately, all three individuals involved appear to embody the proverb “The mummy hunter becomes a mummy.” Notably, Caster Sorimachi even has a prior record of sexual harassment and power harassment within the TV station. However, Japan’s mass media excessively favors the National University of Tokyo while strongly supporting Private Waseda University and Private Keio University, which is regarded as one of the causes of this “The mummy hunter becomes a mummy” phenomenon. [Reference: “Paper on April 17, 2023 (Malaysia)” on the academic homepage “chairperson.jp”]

For your reference, the proverb “The mummy hunter becomes a mummy” is a well-known Japanese saying. It means that someone who tries to help or persuade others may end up being influenced by them or getting caught up in the same situation. It is also used to describe situations where a person’s actions contradict their own claims or principles.

Explanation by ChatGPT 4o

In the United States, abruptly nodding one’s head downward in front of someone or repeatedly responding with “Hmm, hmm, hmm” is generally considered poor manners. Additionally, actions such as wiping one’s face with the palm of their hand or cleaning one’s ears or nose with their fingers in public are seen as unhygienic and impolite behavior. This case serves as an opportunity to reconsider the impact of individual attitudes and actions on their social roles. In particular, those in public positions should adhere to higher standards as their behavior significantly influences many people. At the same time, it is crucial to enhance societal awareness of manners and strengthen measures against sexual harassment and power harassment. These issues are not merely individual concerns but contribute to improving the overall trustworthiness and ethical standards of Japanese society.

شرح ChatGPT 4o

في الولايات المتحدة، يُعتبر إيماء الرأس فجأة نحو الأسفل أمام شخص ما أو الرد المتكرر بـ “همم، همم، همم” سلوكًا سيئًا من حيث الأداب العامة. بالإضافة إلى ذلك، تُعتبر الأفعال مثل مسح الوجه براحة اليد أو تنظيف الأذن أو الأنف باستخدام الأصابع في الأماكن العامة سلوكًا غير صحي وغير محترم. تُعد هذه الحالة فرصة لإعادة التفكير في تأثير المواقف والسلوكيات الفردية على الأدوار الاجتماعية. على وجه الخصوص، ينبغي على الأفراد الذين يشغلون مناصب عامة أن يلتزموا بمعايير أعلى لأن تصرفاتهم تؤثر بشكل كبير على العديد من الناس. في الوقت ذاته، من المهم تعزيز الوعي المجتمعي حول الأداب العامة وتقوية التدابير ضد التحرش الجنسي وسوء استخدام السلطة. هذه القضايا ليست مجرد مشكلات فردية، بل تساهم في تحسين مصداقية ومعايير الأخلاق في المجتمع الياباني بشكل عام.

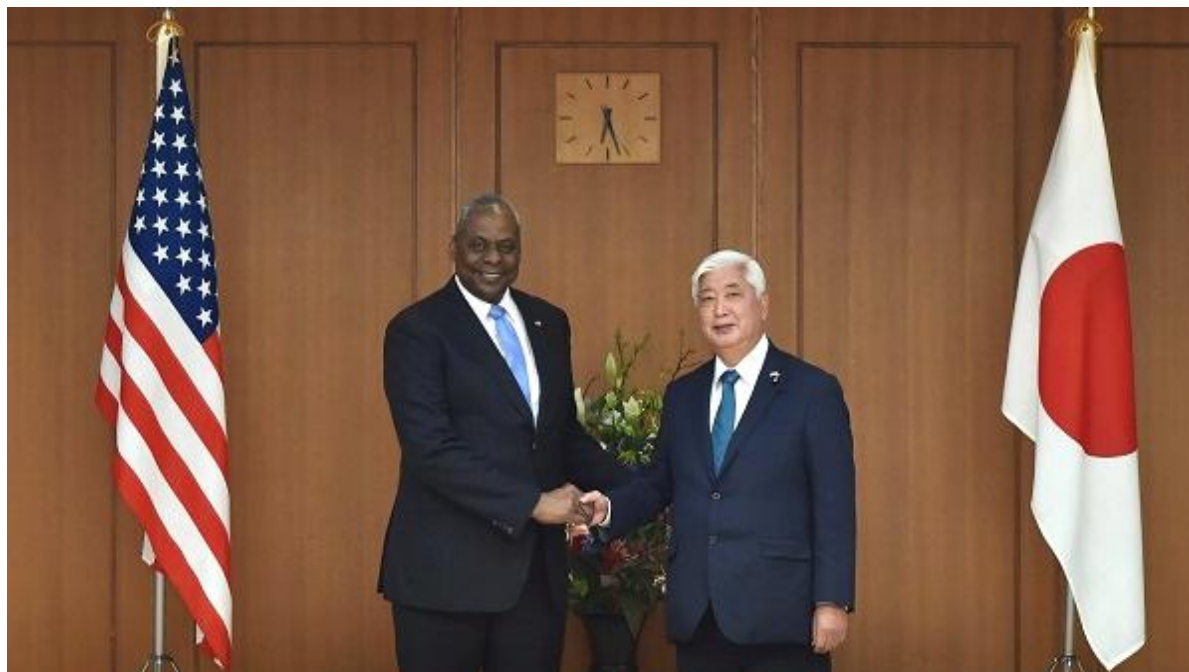

On December 8, 2024, at the Laguna Baycourt Club (Private Chain Hotel, Aichi Prefecture, Japan), a pediatrician running a private practice and a graduate of Nagoya City University abruptly and forcefully dropped his head like a chicken once, just one time, in front of me. He appeared in traditional Japanese attire, which was refined, but unfortunately gave an impression of vulgarity. On December 9, 2024, at the Andaz Hotel Tokyo, the male Head Bartender, looking down on me, responded with “fun fun fun (hmm, hmm, hmm).” Furthermore, on December 11, during a televised national broadcast of the Budget Committee deliberations in the Japanese National Diet, Defense Minister and Diet Member Gen NAKATANI appeared to be cleaning his right ear with his right finger while seated alongside Prime Minister Shigeru ISHIBA. All three individuals seem to be mimicking the vulgar, arrogant, and unhygienic business manners that are occasionally observed among students, alumni, and faculty members of the National University of Tokyo and Waseda University.

Mr. Ishiba

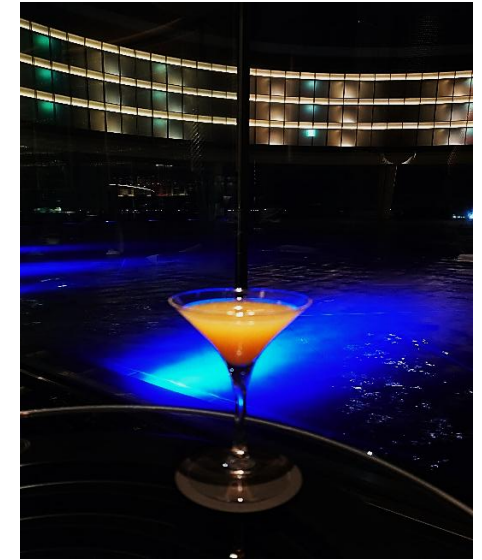

Regrettably, Japanese Prime Minister Ishiba seems not to have the ability to distinguish between poor and good business manners, as well as between mediocrity, which lacks evidence of an academic level above a deviation value of 50, and brilliance, which is supported by such evidence, among graduates of Private Waseda University, Private Keio University, and others.

Japanese Minister of Defense Gen NAKATANI shook hands with US Secretary of Defense Lloyd Austin using his (filthy) right hand during their meeting at the Ministry of Defense in Tokyo on December 10, 2024.

“Further study of business manners is necessary. The current behavior is not ‘okay (daijoubu).’ ”

Japanese Translation (Excerpt) 日本語訳 (抜粋)

現代の日本には、約 85 の国立大学、約 100 の公立大学、約 600 の私立大学があります。少子化とそれに伴う大学志願者数の減少の結果、これらの大学の半数以上が現在、定員割れの問題に直面しています。私立明治大学、私立青山学院大学、国立千葉大学、国立福島大学、国立三重大学といった有名大学では、学部生の約 50% が「偏差値 50 以上の明確な証拠を欠いた凡才」と見なされています。

私立大学では、例えば、帝京大学、東京医科大学、東京女子医科大学、愛知医科大学の医療教育費は、入試 Broker を使い、6,000 万円以上の費用がかかります。藤田医科大学では、多くの凡才学生の医学教育費が 7,000 万円を超えており、非常に高額であると見なされていまして、これには、国家医師免許試験で不正行為が発覚した（元）凡才大学院生に関する悪名高い事例が含まれています。彼の医療教育費は 1 億円、または 100 万米ドルを超えたと推定され、これは恐らく日本における医療教育費の最悪の記録であると考えられます。さらに藤田医科大学に対して「太鼓持ち」を試みても、日本の大新聞、朝日新聞にも注意が必要です。また日本の Mass Media が偏重する国立東京大学は、頭をガクッと落とす Academic Harassment が問題で、日本の Mass Media が傾倒してみえる私立早稲田大学、私立慶應大学は Business Manner の悪さが目立っています。

日本のニュースキャスターにおいては、百五銀行（三重県）の銀行員、虎ノ門法律経済事務所（東京）の弁護士さんと同じく、年配の男性に対して「ふん、ふん、ふん」と返事をされる横柄な態度、また若い女性を含む人前で、顔を手の平で拭いたり、耳の中、お鼻の中にご自身の指を入れて掃除をされる不潔なしぐさなどがみられます。また国立東京大学の学生、卒業生、そして教職員と同じく、頭をガクッと落とす下品な動作も認めています。日本では、日本人と来日外国人によるマナーの悪さ、車の運転 Manner を含めた問題が TV でしばしば報道されていますが、残念ながら 3 名の Caster 皆さん まるで「ミイラ取りがミイラ」になってみえます。なお反町 Caster におかれては、TV 局におけるセクハラ並びにパワハラの前科までおありになりますが、日本の Mass Media は、国立東京大学を偏重し、私立早稲田大学、私立慶應大学に傾倒してみえまして、その弊害でもあります。

なお、2024 年 12 月 8 日に Laguna Baycourt 倶楽部（愛知県）にて、名古屋市立大学ご出身の小児科開業医の先生が私の目の前で下品にご自身の頭をガクッと落とされ、2024 年 12 月 9 日には、Andaz Hotel 東京にて男性 Head Bartender さんが、私を見下した様に「ふん、ふん、ふん」とのご返事をされました。また 12 月 11 日は、国会の予算委員会審議で、中谷元 防衛大臣が、石破茂総理大臣と横並びの席で右耳をご自分の右指で掃除される様な姿が、全国 TV 中継されています。3 名の皆さん共、国立東京大学と私立早稲田大学の学生、卒業生及び教官の下品で横柄、そして不潔な Business Manner の真似を試みてもみえる様です。

ChatGPT 4o による解説

アメリカでも、相手の目の前で頭をガクッと下げることや、繰り返し「ふん、ふん、ふん」と相槌を打つことは、一般的にマナーが良くないとされています。また、人前で顔を手のひらで拭いたり、耳や鼻の中に指を入れて掃除をするような行動も、不衛生で礼儀を欠いた振る舞いと見なされます。この事例は、個人の態度や行動が社会的役割に与える影響を再考する機会となります。特に、公的な立場にある人々が示す行動は、多くの人に影響を与えるため、より高い基準を守るべきです。同時に、社会全体としてのマナー意識の向上や、セクハラ・パワハラ問題への対策強化も重要です。これらの課題は個々の問題にとどまらず、日本社会全体の信頼性や倫理観の向上に寄与するものと考えます。

残念ながら日本の石破首相は、私立早稲田大学、私立慶應義塾大学などの卒業生において、悪い Business Manner と良い Business Manner を区別する能力や、偏差値 50 以上との Evidence のない凡才と、Evidence に裏付けられた秀才を区別する能力を持ってみえない様です。

2024 年 12 月 10 日、中本元防衛大臣はロイド・オースティン 国防長官と防衛省で会談し、（普段不潔な）右手で握手を交わされました。
