Harvard Krokodiloes 2017
Harvard University
MA, U.S.A.

Dear Harvard Krokodiloes,

Thank you for your contact before the world tour 2017 of the Harvard Krokodiloes. I am sorry I can't support very much like Waseda University Glee Club in Japan. However, I will be pleased to invite all of the 12 members of the Harvard Krokodiloes to lunch or supper at the Roppongi Hills Club Japan during your stay for the World Tour to Japan from June 17 to June 22, supper on June 17, lunch or supper on June 18, lunch or supper on June 19 and supper on June 20 for one or two hours, when it is convenient for you during your tight schedule in the Tokyo Metropolitan area. Of course, I always welcome one or a few members to dinner with me at the Roppongi Hills Club, at another opportunity, when you make a private visit to Japan in 2017. I would like to talk on our study, backdoor, "Why don't your professors of Harvard University mention the backdoor at the university?" It is just the same as the University of Tokyo's professors. The United States Olympic Committee and Japanese Olympic Committee usually make a discussion on the doping at the games..."

Please let me correct that I (Shida) am not "Mr. Shida" as you called me in your letter on February 8, 2017. "Dr. Shida" is correct. Japanese mass media also often confuses a person who has a bachelor's degree (third-degree) with a person who has a doctor's degree (first-degree) as same as you. For example, a producer of NHK (Japan Broadcasting Corporation) to whom I sent a letter to introduce our academic homepage "chairperson.jp" on my 55th birthday, January 26, 2017 from Honolulu maybe said "I can't understand the content of the homepage 'chairperson.jp' yet (Mada)" in February, 2017. He used a wrong word "yet (Mada)." He should have said "I can't understand the content of academic homepage 'chairperson.jp' because I don't have a doctor's degree," then, ask an excellent (Yuushuu) scholar who has doctor's degree and read "Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise." If he does that, he will notice the necessity to confirm the entrance-examination broker and sixty million education expenses for medical education at the third-class private universities like Teikyo University (President: Okinaga Family) in Japan. Once before, an American doctor said "Please call me 'Dr.,' (not 'Mr.')" at the Four Seasons Hotel Washington D.C. and we saw an impolite (Shitsurei) sports doctor who worked around the NFL (National Football League, U.S.A.) for years in the American movie "Concussion." Thus, the Roppongi Hills Club also needs good manners for members and visitors. As Harvard University knows, 20~30% graduates of Waseda University (Sole first-class private university, Japan) who do not have a brain (Ahokusai: Japanese private school graduates like gossips "Kusai «bad smell»"), and also have a rough and uncouth manner (Bankara) unlike British gentlemen and ladies are not reputed "Elite" or welcomed at high-class member's clubs around the world in the 21st Century. Harvard, once again, please note that "Dr. or Sensei" is different from "Mr. or San" in the U.S.A. and Japan. Thank you for your kind understanding and corporation to this letter.
