Profile

Yukihisa SHIDA became the Doctor and Chairperson of Sports in his twenties — the fastest pace in history.

- 1962 0 y.o. Born in Tsu City, the seat of the Mie Prefecture government in Japan.
- 1972 10 y.o. Started to enjoy table tennis.
- 1973 11 y.o. Stayed in the home of an American family for three weeks in Potlatch City, Idaho, USA.
- 1976 14 y.o. Became the Table Tennis Champion in Tsu City, Mie Prefecture.
- 1980 18 y.o. Entered Aichi Medical University Faculty of Medicine, School of Medicine (“Backdoor University,” private third-class medical university in Aichi Prefecture, Japan) because his home class teacher in Tsu-nishi High School (Tsu City, public claim high school) advised him that he enter a private medical university without an entrance-exam broker and for less money than Fujita Health University Faculty of Medicine, School of Medicine (“Backdoor University,” another private third-class medical university in Aichi Prefecture).
- 1984 22 y.o. Passed the entrance examination for Fukushima University Faculty of Education, Teacher Training Program for Secondary Education (public university in Fukushima Prefecture, Japan), but declined to join the institution.
- 1986 24 y.o. Graduated from Aichi Medical University and worked for Mie University Hospital (public university, Mie Prefecture) as a physician.
- 1988 26 y.o. Entered Mie University Graduate School, School of Medicine.
- 1990 28 y.o. Became the Team Doctor of the Japan Table Tennis Team (Japan Table Tennis Association).
- 1991 29 y.o. Became a Chairperson of the International Table Tennis Federation Sports Science Congress.
[Became the Doctor and Chairperson of Sports in his twenties, the youngest in the world to achieve this.]
- 1992 30 y.o. Graduated from Mie University Graduate School, School of Medicine and took a Ph.D. in medicine.
- 1994 32 y.o. Doctors who graduated from Mie University Faculty of Medicine School of Medicine banned him from talking about the “Japan Table Tennis Association” at academic meetings, they changed his full-time position to a part-time one, in an attempt to cut his salary in half, and they violently shouted and laughed foolishly. Then he was forced to give up his membership at the Japan Table Tennis Association Sports Science Committee because there was no way to persuade the strong academic clique formed by them.
- 1997 35 y.o. A new Professor of Mie University who graduated from Kyoto University (public university) fired him without handing over information about his work in sports medicine from the former professor who was also a graduate from Kyoto University.
- 1999 37 y.o. Advocated the “Doping - Backdoor Theory.”
- 2000 38 y.o. Became a member of Waseda University Extension Center (private university, Tokyo)
- 2002 40 y.o. Became a member of the Friends of the Vienna Philharmonic in Japan.
- 2004 42 y.o. Created the “Chairperson Cocktail.”
- 2006 44 y.o. Requested the “My Way.”
- 2008 46 y.o. The “Chairperson Cocktail” was adopted as the official Olympic Cocktail of the China World Hotel Beijing at the Beijing Olympics 2008.
- 2009 47 y.o. Doctors who graduated from the University of Tokyo (public university) pressured him to quit his sports and medical education by firing him a total of four times and laughing foolishly at him.
- 2012 50 y.o. Published the “Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise” which includes three theme works, studying sports and medical education, creating an art work about the chairperson, as well as presenting music about life.

Harvard Krokodiloes (2010)

Dr. Shida commented at the Altitude Restaurant (Awarded Restaurant 2010 by the Australian Hotels Association) of the Shangri-la Hotel Sydney on January 27, 2011. “The JTB (Japan Travel Bureau) guided that there would be no illuminations (dark) to Sydney Opera House on my 49th birthday, January 26, 2011. I was surprised and confirmed that the Sydney Opera House was lit up by natural light and not by artistic illuminations on that day. Dr. Zahi Hawass studied what the Pyramid is. While I was studying what the backdoor is, unfortunately, Harvard University was ‘no light up, dark!’ to their entrance examination broker because of the maintenance every day.” After one year, he was satisfied with having a lunch and dinner at the two different main restaurants with a birthday cake presented in the Burj Al Arab Hotel Dubai (Seven-Star Hotel) as the Doctor and Chairperson of Sport on his 50th birthday, January 26, 2012, with the “Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise.” Under pressure from the Japan Society for Medical Education and Japanese universities which hold a medical department, he has enough that he will be introducing the “Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise” in 2012 and 2013 to 100 four- or five-star hotels, Osaka University and the University of Tokyo, Japan, all of which he has visited and 100 four- or five-star hotels, Columbia University and Harvard University, all of which he has already visited in the world (five permanent member countries of the United Nations Security Council), in addition to the Vienna Philharmonic, which usually tours the world. And he must reprogram the simulation (the intense academic pressure in Japan), so it is possible to continue research for the next ten years. Till 2022, full papers are expected to accomplish the objective, after simply having discussions with the professor in the special field at Harvard University in 2013, if Harvard University permits it. He said this on his 50th birthday: “When I stayed at the Savoy Hotel London, which has the ‘World’s Best Hotel Bar,’ there was no TIME magazine in the hotel’s gift shop. The hotel staff said to me, like in the movie Mission Impossible, ‘Almost within fifteen minutes, we will deliver it to your room.’ But no magazine came. Today (January 26, 2012), I felt at ease on the best pool-side city view bed in this hotel (Burj Al Arab Hotel), but couldn’t read any magazine. It was a little dark beside the large window that evening. Our society around the world had better inform some intelligence when we need it, at any place, at any time.” President of the Association de la Sommellerie Internationale, Mr. Shinya Tasaki does not know the name of the Cocktail “Chairperson” though I have seen him six times and President of the Imperial Hotel, Ltd. (Japan), Mr. Tetsuya Kobayashi does not know the contents of the “Doping - Backdoor Theory” though I have seen him twice. Many high-class hotels and some top-class museums and universities including the Ritz Hotel Paris, the Louvre Museum and Harvard University that will receive the “Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise” are expected to understand the essence of this special treatise consisted of three short papers, as the National Governors’ Association of Japan will do.
