Mr. Roy Yamaguchi

Kahala Hotel's Mid-level Manager

Dear Mr. Glennon,
I stay at the Kahala Hotel in Honolulu on January 28, 2017. I appreciate your kindness in allowing me to stay at the Kahala Hotel and to give a comment to you, as I did at Osaka University, on January 28, 2017.

Mr. Gerald Glennon: General Manager of the Kahala Hotel (January 28, 2017)

Dr. Shida provides an explanation to Mr. Glennon

“One years ago, I was concerned about our academic homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ in Paris on my 54th birthday, January 26, 2016. 1)The homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ might be closed if the Japan Medical Association or Japanese money-powered backdoor universities make some complaints or sue the homepage ‘chairperson. jp.’ President of the Japan Medical Association, Dr. Yoshitake Yokokawa also graduated from and worked for Kurume University (not-brilliant, money-powered backdoor, hence third-class private university, Japan). [The World Medical Association elected Dr. Yoshitake Yokokawa in October, 2016 as new President to take over in October, 2017.] 2) The Internet companies in China that are put under the control of the Chinese government will delete the homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ in the Internet world. Because our academic homepage may contain academic words that are not suitable for some people who have been connected to the backdoor universities in the world. General Manager, I sent a letter to NHK (Japan Broadcasting Corporation) and enjoyed my 55th birthday in Honolulu on January 26, 2017. During the last year, we received no claim, no sue and could see the homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ on the Baidu search engine. And yet, Yahoo! Japan deleted our homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ from it’s search engine! In Japan in 2016, YAHOO! JAPAN was the most-used and Google Japan was the second most-used Internet companies. [Google Japan was the most-used and Yahoo! Japan was the second most-used search engine companies.] The following is a message for the year 2016 from President and CEO of Yahoo! Japan, Mr. Manabu Miyasaka. ‘In the space of just two decades, advances in information and communications technology and the rapid proliferation of Internet access have profoundly transformed people’s lives. The sheer convenience and relative ease of daily life today is such that many people in Japan prefer to envision their lives 20 years into the future as being essentially unchanged from today. In a very real sense, envisioning a future that differs little from the present is tantamount to foreswearing all hope for progressive change and a brighter future for all. For our part, we prefer to envision a Japanese society that enthusiastically embraces the transformative potential of information technology and remains ever hopeful of better things to come. In that spirit, we (Yahoo! Japan) have formulated ‘UPDATE JAPAN’ as our guiding vision for taking on the next 20 years.’ Mr. Miyasaka looks like he has not understood the homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ in English. On the other hand, a medical doctor who graduated from Nagasaki University (near first-class public university, Japan) is not ‘a full-fledged man (Ichininmae).’ He needs (hitsuyou) to study more, but has made his original comic (manga) library in the hospital’s night-duty room instead of reading the homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ in English. And as many American and Japanese people know, Toyota Motor Corporation removed (former) Managing Executive Officer Julie Hamp from the U.S.A. on June 31, 2015. Unfortunately, she could not read or understand the academic homepage ‘chairperson. jp’ opened on January 26, 2016 which includes the ‘Chairperson 20th Anniversary Treatise’ in the U.S.A. or Japan before she was arrested in Japan on June 18, 2015 for allegedly having imported tablets of painkiller oxycodone without permission. On January 5, 2006, the Savoy Hotel London answered my question ‘What is the first-class?’ in the main dining, ‘The first-class is accomplished by doing our best and improving ourselves every day.’ Then, Owner Chef of the 20 Roy’s restaurants around the world as of 2017, Mr. Roy Yamaguchi said in our (Mr. Yamaguchi and Dr. Shida) culinary dialogue on October 28, 2005 and July 7, 2006, ‘I (Mr. Yamaguchi) always do my best.’”
