Mr. Joseph Mattioli
 General Manager
 St. Regis Hotel
 Washington, D.C., U.S.A.

Dear Mr. Mattioli,
 I stayed at the Plaza Hotel NY on January 27 and Mandarin Oriental Boston on January 28, 2018. I appreciate your kindness in allowing me to stay at the St. Regis Hotel Washington, D.C. and to give a comment to you, as I did at Osaka University, on January 29, 2018.

Mr. George Cozonis : General Manager of the Plaza Hotel New York (January 27, 2018)
 Mr. Philipp C. Knuepfer : General Manager of the Mandarin Oriental Hotel Boston (January 28, 2018)
 Mr. Joseph Mattioli : General Manager of the St. Regis Hotel Washington, D.C. (January 29, 2018)

Dr. Shida provides an explanation to the General Manager

“Before the ‘STAP Cell Scandal’ in 2014 concerned with Harvard University caused by Dr. (presently Ms.) Haruko Obokata, ‘Rough and Uncouth (Bankara) Scientist’ who graduated from Waseda University (private university), an ‘iPS Cell Scandal’ was caused by Dr. Hisashi Moriguchi, M.P.H., Ph.D., former Fellow of the Massachusetts General Hospital (the largest original teaching hospital of Harvard Medical School) and former Project Professor of University of Tokyo (public university) and Dr. Chifumi Sato, M.D., Ph.D., Professor of Tokyo Medical and Dental University (public university), in Japan in 2012. They said ‘We conducted the world’s first iPS cell transplant into six patients’ at the International Meeting in New York on October 11, 2012. The Yomiuri Shimbun (Japan), the largest circulation newspaper company, ran an article on the results of this research on its front page. However, their glory was only momentary. They later made a different explanation (excuse) about their work in the U.S.A., saying ‘We are confident about the success of the transplant for one patient who has been fine since our iPS cell transplant was conducted in the U.S.A. on June, 2012. Although we fabricated a story of the other five patients, there is no doubt! no doubt that our (University of Tokyo and Tokyo Medical and Dental University team) study on iPS cell transplant succeeded for the first time in the world.’ Dr. Moriguchi told at a three-hour press conference in New York on October 13, 2012.’ In 2017, Mr. Masayoshi Son, a holder of bachelor degree in economics of the University of California, Berkeley and Chairperson and CEO of the Softbank group in Japan, substantially No.1 donor to the victims of the East Japan Earthquake in 2011 and No. 1 billionaire in Japan in 2017. U.S. President Donald Trump who takes pride in graduating from Pennsylvania University Wharton School and his own high IQ (Brilliant) may not know Mr. Son’s ground-level business style, ‘Autocratic Chairperson & CEO digs a deep pitfall for customers of Softbank including iPhone users in Japan.’ It may cost more than millions of yen or tens of thousands of US $ when you use Softbank pocket Wi-Fi for several days in a foreign country before you even know it. This is in sharp contrast to the fact that DoCoMo company, Japanese No.1 mobile network operator company, puts a ceiling on the price of 2,980 yen per day when you take it to a foreign country. Furthermore, it’s explanation on this peculiar system by the staff at a Softbank shop based on its operation manual was not enough, but assessed it well. [The Softbank company made Mr. Son a billionaire. So the very idea that people are unaware of every detail or aspect of that Softbank’s operation... well, frankly, it’s, it’s very insulting.] This fact was also introduced by the Japan Best Sommelier (2014) at the Wolf Blass Dinner Event conducted by a famous wine company in Australia on August 27, 2015. How’s their (Dr. Obokata, Dr. Moriguchi, Dr. Sato, Mr. Son) trap feel clamped on our leg? This month, American bartenders of the One Dine restaurant and bar (101F) did not know the cocktail ‘Chairperson’ which conveys an image of ‘International, Congress, Leader, Intelligence and Elegance’ to the One World Trade Center on January 26, 2018, then I believe that if our academic papers catch the eyes of citizens of New York, Boston and Washington, D.C., they will understand each lawful but peculiar business style concerned with Harvard University or White House. And there is usual inconvenient business style that we should always pay attention to this century. As General Manager knows, we should do pay attention to ‘Padding (‘Mizumashi’) Business’ done by not only taxi drivers like NY yellow cabs, but also Japanese private university graduates like Keio University (3rd-class, ‘Lotus Root University’).”
